DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. Claims 9-10, 12-13, 16, 23-24 & 26-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Combinations of Fe-Mn Fe-Si, Fe-Ti and Fe-Mn-Si are in the claims, however it is not known what is meant by combinations. Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 3, 5, 8-11, 12-13 & 15-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Nagarajan et al. (US Pat. 5,824,992).

Nagarajan et al. discloses a metal core weld wire in which the core composition includes iron powder usually as filler material and the core composition contains between approximately 13 to 45% of the total wire weight (abstract, col. 1, lines 15-25). The steel sheath includes about 0.005 to 0.15% carbon, and 0.1 to 1.1% Mn (col. 4, lines 25-35). Additionally, the total wire contains 0.005 to 0.150% carbon (col. 4, lines 5-14). The metal core composition contains 0.1 to 2.5% Mn, 0.2 to 10.0% Fe, 0.2 to 2.0% Si, 0.001 to 0.100% Ti and 0.3 to 12.5% Fe-Mn, 0.4 to 12.0% Fe-Si, 0.201 to 10.1% Fe-Ti, 0.5 to 14.5% Fe-Mn-Si (col. 4, lines 20-25).

Although Nagarajan et al. does not teach reduced fume generation, it does teach the same metal core weld wire composition as instant claims. If a composition is physically the same, it must have the same properties. A chemical composition and its properties are inseparable. Therefore the prior art teaches the same chemical composition, the properties of instant claims are necessarily inherent and present. See In re Spada, 15 USPQ 2d 1655, 1658.

Nagarajan et al. discloses a carbon content as low as 0.005%, although not 0.0046 or 0.0047% and additionally, does not disclose the exact same composition as instant claims.

The exact amounts of each of the constituents as presently claimed are not disclosed in the prior art; however, the prior art compositions closely approximate or overlap applicant's claimed composition. It has been held that one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention would have considered the claimed compositions to have been obvious because close approximation or overlapping ranges in a composition is considered to establish a prima facie case of obviousness. See In re Malagari, 182 USPQ 549, Titanium Metals v. Banner 227 USPQ 773, In re Nehrenberg 126 USPQ 383.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4, 6-7, 14 & 17-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

5. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art does not teach the amounts of Mn, Si or Al as instant claims or the fume generation rate.

6. Claims 23-24 & 26-27 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

7. Claims 21-22 & 25 are allowed.

8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the claims as supported by the specification differs from the prior art in that it does not teach a metal core composition carbon range from 0.0019 to 0.0047%.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
